WVNET announces Professional Development Week July 13-17

June 12, 2020

WVNET is excited to launch our new Teaching and Learning Commons— a re-envisioning of how we deliver IT services, expertise and support to the state of West Virginia. Formerly titled the "Distance Learning and Educational Services Division," the Teaching and Learning Commons is still offering all of the services and support it has always provided; however, we are adding to these services a focus on structured Professional Development. To kick off the launch of our Teaching and Learning Commons, we will be offering Professional Development Week in July.

Professional Development Week will be a series of workshops, webinars, vendor presentations and product demos. Presentations will be done by the experts at WVNET, Educators throughout the state, and our vendor partners.

Professional Development Week

When: July 13-17, 2020
Workshops Sessions: 30, 60, or 90 minutes sessions available throughout the week from 9:00am-3:00pm
Format: Separate online sessions through WebEx and Zoom
Registration: https://tlc.wvnet.edu/training-calendar/ (Available July 1)
Audience: Higher Education, K12, State Government
Topics: Online Teaching and Learning, Banner, Cybersecurity, Office 365, and much more

A full calendar of sessions will be available on July 1st.